

Edmonton Welcomes her returned heroes

PREMIER STEWART'S WELCOME

The occasion of the homecoming of the 49th Battalion as a unit is indeed a fitting time for a demonstration of the intense feeling of pride that the people of this portion of the province have in the return of all our men from their glorious achievements overseas. It is a long day since we saw our various regiments marching through our streets to the martial music of their bands. Then we had the great consciousness of pride in that we knew they would uphold our cause worthily; now we have the great consciousness of pride in their achievements, which have caused the admiration, not only of Canada, but of the Empire as a whole.

Men of the 49th and other battalions: the people of this province take this occasion to show you our pride in your achievements, and to extend a real "Welcome Home."

GREETINGS FROM MAYOR CLARKE

To Lieut.-Col. R. H. Palmer, Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and "Boys" of the 49th (Edmonton) Battalion:

As Mayor of your home city on the day of your return, and as soon after your arrival within the confines of Alberta as possible, I wish to again welcome and extend to you the congratulations, not only of your many friends, but of your home city and province as a whole.

The time and place seem so opportune for your fellow-citizens to take the opportunity to conduct a reception and demonstration in honor of all of our soldiers, that I feel assured you will look upon it as another opportunity to fit into a good snug place, and share the honor of such a reception with the many who have preceded you home, and paved the way for other glad home-comings for the many who are still to follow.

On your arrival here, opportunity will be afforded not only officials, but the citizens as a whole, to express their goodwill in many ways, and it is to give you an idea of the prevailing opinion in your home city on the day of your arrival, that I avail myself of this opportunity to say "Doubly Welcome Home" and may you long remain to bring lustre to your names in civilian life, equal to that which you have left inscribed on the battlefields of Europe.

Now that the hour of your arrival is so definitely settled, and is so close, I feel that I am expressing the unanimous opinion of the citizens of Edmonton, when I say: "You can't get here too quickly; nor stay long!"

Sincerely yours,
JOSEPH A. CLARKE

A "Welcome Home" for All Soldiers

THIS Special "Welcome Home" Edition of The Bulletin is issued in co-operation with the merchants, manufacturers, financial institutions, etc., of Edmonton as an expression of appreciation of the highly creditable services which soldiers from Edmonton and Northern Alberta have rendered during the four and a half years of war.

They realize, of course, that no words could adequately express the gratitude which each citizen feels, nor can any mere lip praise compensate these brave men for the service and sacrifice which they have fully and firmly given in the period of stress, now happily ended.

Fellow-citizens of these returned heroes, however, do want to take advantage of this opportunity to express their very great pleasure at the safe return of many who have not up to the present been the recipient of any public recognition and also of those who are today coming back as a part of the one regiment from this city which has been intact from the beginning. These business and financial houses with The Bulletin heartily congratulate you upon your safe return and hope that your translation to civilian life will be accomplished with satisfaction and profit to yourselves, as they know it will be to the community in which you may in future reside.

Lieut. Col. George B. McLeod, Who Organized the 63rd Battalion

The attitude of the Hudson's Bay Company to the Returned Men Explained in the Following Letter ::

HOME AGAIN, and glad to be there! Back to civilian life! A copy of a letter sent by the Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company to every employee who enlisted in the army shows the welcome we intend to give to the returned men. It reads:

Dear Sir: The terms of the armistice concluded on November 11 are the measure of a triumphant victory.

This victory, vindicating as it does the cause of liberty and right, is due in large measure to the resolution, tenacity, and bravery of the sailors and soldiers of the Empire, and we desire especially to express our appreciation to those servants of the company who have shared in its achievements.

Although demobilization cannot be completed until peace conditions have been formulated, agreed upon and complied with, the cessation of hostilities naturally brings us to the consideration of your future, and we take this early opportunity of informing you that, should you wish to do so, you are at liberty to rejoin the company's service at any time within three months after the date of your discharge.

Pay will commence on the date upon which you will be ready to resume your duties, irrespective of whether we can find work for you at that time or not. To commence with, the rate of pay will be the one applicable to the post which you formerly held—that is to say, you will receive the full benefit of any bonus now being paid by the company to its employees in consideration of the present advanced cost of living.

Please address your applications with copy of discharge note and medical certificate to:

If you were employed in London, Mr. F. C. Ingram, 1 Lime street, E.C.

If you were employed in the Stores Department, Mr. H. E. Burbidge, Vancouver, B.C.

If you were employed in the Land Department or in the Fur Trade Department, Mr. Chief Factor Thomson, Winnipeg.

The absence of so many men from their accustomed work has placed a burden upon those of your colleagues who remained behind, but their efforts to carry on under conditions often attended with serious difficulties have been rewarded by a considerable measure of success. The directors are counting upon a continuance of this loyal co-operation in the steps now being taken to extend the company's trade, and they hope that as a result of these joint efforts an expansion will result which will increase the opportunities of advancement for the employees of the company.

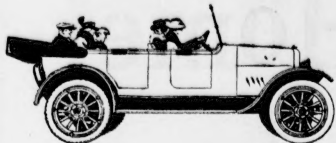

Much, of course, will depend upon the nature of the problems arising during the difficult transition period following the establishment of peace, but you may rest assured that both the directors and your colleagues will be glad to welcome your return and to assist you in every way in your plans for the future. With our best wishes for the coming year and a safe return.

Yours faithfully,
R. M. KINDERSLEY,
Governor

The Alberta Government Offers Educational Assistance to Returned Soldiers

THE ALBERTA GOVERNMENT EXTENDS A MOST CORDIAL WELCOME TO ALL RETURNING HEROES OF THE GREAT WAR. REALIZING THE IMPORTANCE OF ENLISTING THE SERVICES OF THE LARGEST POSSIBLE NUMBER OF RETURNED MEN IN EDUCATIONAL WORK, THE GOVERNMENT HAS MADE PROVISION FOR SPECIAL ASSISTANCE IN VARIOUS DIRECTIONS.

The Department Of Education

1.—Loans to Soldiers:—

The Government of Alberta will loan to any returned man honorably discharged, who holds the necessary entrance qualifications, a sum sufficient to enable him to complete a course of training for the teaching profession.

2.—Loans to Sons and Daughters of Deceased Soldiers:—

The above loan privileges have been extended to young men and women who are the sons and daughters of soldiers deceased while on active service.

3.—Concessions in the matter of entrance requirements:—

The regulations of the Department of Education have been amended as to allow admission to Normal Schools of returned men holding the Grade X diploma or its equivalent. About TWENTY men are now taking teacher training courses under the above arrangements. Teachers' salaries are increasing. The minimum is $840, and salaries of $1,000 and $1,200 and more are becoming common in rural districts. There is great need for teachers and it is hoped many soldiers will take advantage of these proposals.

11.—Special Summer School:—

Many men enlisted during the school term, and now find themselves unable to continue their courses. To avoid further loss of time, the Department, with the co-operation of the University of Alberta, will open a special summer school for returned men at the University, Edmonton. This course will be opened immediately after the present session of the University closes and will continue until about October 1st. This summer school is designed to meet the immediate educational needs of returned men, who plan to continue their courses. It will give instruction in any subject required at any point to enable those taking this work to carry on in a regular class in the fall. The Department will be glad to have inquiries concerning these summer courses and applications at once, that the plans may be completed.

III.—Technical Education:—

It is realized that education in the ordinary school subjects will not appeal to many men and that instruction in technical courses will prove much more attractive. To make such courses possible and to bring these opportunities to the doors of the men wherever they may live, a greatly broadened and more generous scheme of grants covering the whole province has been adopted. These are for the encouragement of both day and night classes, and will be available to returned men practically everywhere.

A Special Course in Agriculture at the University

In co-operation with the Department of Agriculture a special course of instruction, over a five months' course, is being given at the Provincial University. The instruction includes Field Husbandry, Animal Husbandry, Gardening, Veterinary Care of Animals, Blacksmithing, Carpentry, Dairying, Poultry and Farm Machinery. There are 90 returned men in attendance in the present class which will finish its work by May first. A new class will be immediately organized which will run until the end of September, and which will receive more training in practical field work. The present class is most enthusiastic and are deriving great benefit.

Minister of Education

Minister of Agriculture
